Pluss Advanced Technologies (PCM Division) is in the business of Design and Manufacture of Phase Change Materials (PCMs) and products based on them. We commit ourselves to meet requirements and enhance customer satisfaction. It will be our endeavor that each member of PLUSS works to meet the customer (internal or external) expectations and satisfactorily respond to their queries and doubts.

We shall work to

- Fulfill latest quality management system standards.
- Training and motivating personnel at all levels.
- Continuous updating of knowledge & skills of personnel.
- Continuously evolve and enhance our quality culture.
- Focus on learning & adoption of best practices.

Pluss personnel shall always bear in mind that all our actions impinge on the physical environment within and outside our own premises. We shall, therefore, be fully conscious of our acts and contribute to make this world a better place to work and live in.

We shall continually improve the effectiveness of the quality management system.

All the organizational members shall abide by the theme of personal, material and "quality" safety wherein everyone contributes to the effectiveness of the Quality Management System in general and Customer satisfaction in particular.
